DETAILED ACTION

The rejection under section 112, second paragraph is withdrawn since it is clear that the compound in claim 12 can be a solid or pasty.

The rejections under section 103 are withdrawn since the references fail to motivate those of ordinary skill to modify their disclosures to include compounds with hydroxycitrate.

The following is a new ground of rejection under section 103:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12, 13 and 15-18 and 20-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,217,898 to Cavazza.

Cavazza teaches compounds comprising L-carnitine in combination with hydroxycitrate, see column 1, lines 10-19.

The difference between the compounds covered in the claims and those disclosed by Cavazaa is that Cavazaa fail to explicitly teach magnesium salts. However, the patent clearly contemplates salts of hydroxycitrate, see column 1, line 40.

Art Unit: 1621

Moreover, the patent also contemplates hydroxycitric acid from natural sources, see column 1, lines 51-59, which is highly suggestive of magnesium salts. Therefore, magnesium salts of hydroxycitric acid are well within the motivation of those of ordinary skill, based on Cavazaa, and therefore, prima facie obvious.

Claim 19 is objected to for dependence on a rejected claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all limitations of intervening claims.
